Letter from the American Minister-The Revolution at an End-New Convention between the Generals of the Insurgent Troops-Resignation of President Cevallos -Commission to Santa Anna, &c.

We have received our files of Trait d'Unio El Universal, published in the city of Mexico, to the 11th nit, from which we take the latest news. We have also received a letter from Judge Conkling, our minister in Mexico, which we cheerfully insert :-

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES, Mexico, Jun. 29, 1853. TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK MERALD.

Sin-In your paper of the 8th of last month, which first fell under my eye a day or two ago, I met with a translation from the Spanish of my address to the President of the Mexican republic, on the occasion of the presentation by me of my letter of credence as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary. It is not surprising, and is far from implying any intentional fault on the part of any one, that in passing through two translations, first from English into Spanish, and next from Spanish into English, the janguage of the address should have undergone, as I see it has done, considerable changes. Some of these alterations are so great as to make me desirous of baving them corrected, and furnish what I hope will appear to you a sufficient apology for requesting hat you will do me the favor to publish the address as it was delivered a correct copy whereof I accord-ngly take the liberty of transmitting to you herewith. If any other editor has published your version, or any other version from the Spanish, of the address, I respectfully request the like favor from him. The collowing is a true copy of the address:—

I respectfully request the like favor from him. The following is a true copy of the address:—

Mr. Preddent—In presenting to you my credentials as the representative of the United States near your government, as I now have the honor to do, I forbear to speak of the sentiments outertained by the President towards your Excellency and the people of this, the greatest of our stater republics on this continent, because President Fillmore has chosen to be himself the interpretor of those sentiments in a private letter, of which I have the honor to be the bearer.

But I avait myself with pride and pleasure of the occasion to remind your Excellency of the love of justice, the moderation, and the scrupulous regard for the rights of other nations, by which in all our external relations, not less than by his patriotic devotion to the welfare of his own country, in all that pertains to its domestic concerns, his administration has been so honorably distinguished. In this firm and constant adherence to these principles, your Excellency will not fail to discover a since guaracty, that with regard to the several subjects requiring adjustment between the two governments, there can be nothing in my instructions constraining me to listest on any thing which, in the opinion of any government, is not unquestionably just, and for my self, it will, I askney your Excellency, he no less my desire and my sim, than it will be my daty, to observe the innits I have mentioned.

If, as I do not pernet my self to doubt, I shall have the good fortune to dilute tole sovernment antinuacied by corresponding sentiments. I shall not despuir of seeing all the differences between the two governments speedily and astuffactorily sortied and a sold and lasting foundation had for peace and unity between the two governments.

en this shall have been happly accomplished it

When this shall have been happly accomplished, it wil then only remain for my centrir one of sympathize, without reserve, with the salichtmass stateamen and particule citizens of this republic, in their efforts, by wise laws and a pure administration of lastice, to secure the blessings of national freedom and happiness; until at leagth—and would fain hope at no distinct period—your country shall have attained a height of prosperity and greatness commensurate with its geographical extent, with its unparalleled natural elements of weakin, with the waivity and salucity of its cimmte, and the surpassing magnificence and grandeur of its account.

1 am, very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant.

Alpried Conkling.

The Universal of Mexico, under date of 8th Feb ruary, announces that the revolution may now be considered at an end. General Uraga and Senor Cobles had met in Arroyezarco, a few miles from the capital, and agreed upon a plan, which they pre-scated to President Cevallos, at the capital, on the th. In the conferences which these two chiefs of se revolutionary army had with the President, they recognised some difficulties in the way of completing the proposed plan; and, for the purpose of modifying hem, they entered into a long conference, on the 6th, with Generals Carrera and Blanco, commissioned by the Lombardini division, and Senor Revilla, commander of the Independence battalion of the National Guard. An agreement was drawn up and ratified between these generals, which contains the following provisions:—

with the following amplifications. The executive power will have, until the promulgation of the new political constitution, the necessary powers for establishing social order, planning the public administration, forming the national treasury, and reforming the judiciary. As soon as public peace is restored, government will convoke the Naplan of Julisco, not on any presence delaying the convocation more than one year. This National Convocation will have power to constitute the nation under the requirements. under the republican form, representative and po-pular, but without interfering in the functions of the executive. The State legislatures will proceed, with in two days after the receipt of these articles, to elect a President of the receipt of these articles, to elect a President of the republic. In the meantime, Senor Cevallos will hold power, and will, on the 17th of March next, open the parcels containing the votes of the States—will declare the name of the person elected to the Presidency, and will administer the oath of office to him, after which the President elect will enter on the discharge of his functions. In case of a tie of votes, the generals of the army will elect one from among the candidates who may have obtained an equal number of votes. A Council of State is established, composed of twenty-one persons, named and organized by the executive, with whom, in case of declaration of war, or urgent treaty with foreign powers, the government will work in accord. Gen. Santa Anna is to be recalled, pursuant to the eleventh article of the plan of Jalisco. A general amnesty for all political offences is conceded. This agreement is to be communicated by courier to the governors and other authorities of the States, districts and territories. In case Senor Cevallos Tefases the trust confided to him, the generals of the united divisions will name his successor. ne republic.

The Universal, in commenting on this convention says:—"We cannot conclude without paying to Gen. Uraga the homage which he deserves, for the Gen. Uraga the homage which he deserves, for the loyal frankness and noble disinterestedness with which he has acted in these circumstances. Chief of the revolution, applauded by all his fellow-citizens, and strong with the prestige of public opinion and of victory, he has hastened to modify the projects which he had normed, so as not to delay an instant the conciliation of all parties of all rights, and of all aspirations. The general well deserves that his generous ablegation should be recorded, which is, on the other side, a new motive of flattering homes."

other side, a new motive of flattering hopes."
The Trait d Union of the 5th, adds that the gar The Trait at Union of the 5th, nios that the garrison of Mexico, which had promised to sustain M-Cevallos, had abandoned him, giving their senction to the foregoing convention, and the President refusing the shadow of power therein conceded to him, has resigned and retired as a private citizen. Generals Uraga, Robies, and Lombardini, in consequance, proceeded to elect a successor, and the last named person was chosen. Vera Cruz had "pronounced" for Santa Anna, and while awaiting his arrival, the garrison declared they would not accept anything which might be done at Mexico. It was thought that Tampico would follow the same example. A new commission, charged with recalling General Santa Anna, had left Vera Cruz on the 7th, by the English steamer. Colima had ranged itself under the Jalisco banner. Puebla has done the same, but on condition that the tariff duties should not be lowered, and that the prohibitions should not be taken off. Gen. Robies quitted tariff duties should not be lowered, and that the prohibitions should not be taken off. Gen. Roblesquitted Mexico on the 8th, to rejoin part of his division, at Tepegi del Rio. It is stated that his division, on leaving Guanajuato, had raised against his officers, and refused to march, and that, deserting with arms and baggage, they had disbanded themselves to traverse the high roads, to the terror of travellers.

EX-PRESIDENT ARISTA-CARAVAJAL, ETC.

Battimore, Feb. 28-P. M. contain Tampico advices to the 9th inst., from which w learn that ex-President Arista had arrived there in disguise, and, after a stay of two days, left for Matamoras. The Piergame thinks if the report be true, that a change of government will soon be heard of on the Rio Grande. Col. Cruz had succeeded to the command of the troops at Matamoras, and Gen. Avalos took refuge with the American officers at Fort Brown, but afterwards returned to Matamoras, and thence to Saltillo. Caravajel was at or near Reynosa, with troops. There was enmity between him and Col. Cruz, and he intended attacking the latter when he comes to Matamoras. Caravajal and his men, and the National Guards generally, vajal and his men, and the National Guards generally, are incensed at the massesse of Rodrigue at Tampico, and one of Caravajal's men, by the officers of Col. Crus. Col. Crus had issued a proposition giving twenty days from the 22d uit, for Caravajal and his followers to lay down their arms and unite in the pian of Guadalajara. The editor of the Galveston Journal has a letter dated Roma, January 29, stating that there was a conducta on the way from Monterey, with $500,000 in specie, consigned to Mossrs. Uhde, spiors, Jillon, and to merchants at Brownsville. It was expected that Caravajal would make an attempt to take the money, but would fail to do it, as it was well guarded.

An affray had occurred at Roma which it was supposed, would greatly injure the frontier trade. A party of Mexican traders, on the way from Brownsville to a Mexican town, were met by a party of Davies company of rangers, wto, acting under orders from Mr. Brashear, custom house officer at Roma, took from the Mexicans mules and goods, besides killing two and wounding another of the party. The citizens were preparing the necessary documents representing the conduct of Mr. Brashear to the proper authorities at Washington, and an effort will be made to hold the government responsible for the loss sustained by the Mexicans.

The bark A H Kimball, of Rockland, Jeremiah Sleeper, master, of the burthen of 283 tons, loaded with cotton, sugar, and pork, and bound from New Orleans for Philadelphia, arrived here in a leaky condition on the 18th inst. On Thursday, the 17th inst, the bark came in contact with a large ship, supposed to be the Sisters, of Liverpool; had bows stove in, bowsprit carried away, lost head gear, bobstay, and all attached, and had the knight heads started. She is now discharging for further examination. Consigned to James Filor.

On the 18th inst, the ship Howard, J W Reid, master, was brought into port by a wrecas?— Her cargo consists of cetton and provisions, and she was bound from New Orleans for New York. The ship is leaking badly, and will probably discharge for further examination. Bowne & Curry, consignees.

Western Dry Rocks buoy is over a mile to the westward, and inside the reef.

Western triangle buoy is three quarters of a mile from its place westward.

Buoy at the lighthouse Point is a cable's length inshore of its proper place.

The staffs from the buoys are nearly all gone, and the buoys themselves have become so rusty as not to be distinguished by their colors. The contractors should be brought to a rigid account, and no blame could be attached to a pilot should he loose a vessel, under the present circumstances. The buoy on one of the triangles is entirely gone.
